

An Annotated Bibliography of Resources for Teachers

Art for Kids Hub. (2022). Art for Kids Hub. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.youtube.com/c/ArtforKidsHub>

This Youtube Channel is a great way to find creative activities to keep your students engaged. The presenter, Rob, explains how to make various art projects that are appropriate, engaging and fun for students from various age groups. This can be a great tool in teaching art and drawing skills in the classroom and it can also be helpful for virtual learning or homework.

Camerise FSL. (2022). Camerise. Camerise FSL, Glendon College, York University. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://camerisefsl.ca/>

Camerise is a site with various resources focused on French as a Second Language Learning. With lesson plans and other resources, this program provides you with ideas and resources for Core French, Extended French, French Immersion and other programs.

Diane Gehart, PhD. (2022). Diane Gehart, PhD. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.youtube.com/c/DianeRGehartPhD>

Dr. Diane Gehart is an author, professor and Registered Marriage and Family Therapist. Her Youtube channel is centered around psychology and psychotherapy, however she has done a number of great things in schools. For instance, her mindfulness program for elementary students has some great ideas in how to incorporate various effective mental health and mindfulness strategies to support diverse learners.

Elementary Teachers Federation of Ontario. (2022). Classroom Resources. Elementary Teachers Federation of Ontario. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.etfo.ca/resources/classroom-resources>

The Elementary Teachers Federation of Ontario is the Teachers Union for Elementary Teachers in Public Schools. On this site, you will find a number of great resources that can be incorporated into your classroom practice. Many of these ideas are focused on helping diverse learners and marginalized groups in your classroom.

Heenan, J. (2022). Justin Heenan. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC48N2cYT0fpYqky5\_TU0XpA

Justin Heenan is a Special Education Teacher and Registered Psychotherapist (Qualifying) with a focus on physical and mental health for students with special needs.

In his Youtube videos, he takes students through workouts to help them stay active. These videos are focused on Special Olympics Athletes in the schools and in the community.

Knowledgehook. (2022). Knowledgehook. Knowledgehook. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.knowledgehook.com/>

Knowledgehook is a great site that can help your Mathematics Instructional Program. There is a free and a premium version of this site. Based on the Ontario curriculum, this program is a great way to assess your students' learning in math, do group activities or even give students some practice questions.

Ontario Teachers' Federation. (2022). Lesson Plans. Ontario Teachers' Federation. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.otffeo.on.ca/en/resources/lesson-plans/>

The Ontario Teachers' Federation represents teachers in publicly funded schools. This site provides teachers with free lesson plans to support their program. Here, you will find lessons for classrooms from K-12 in various subjects.

Raz-Kids. (2022). Raz-Kids. Learning A-Z. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.raz-kids.com/>

Raz-Kids is a helpful reading program for students. Based on a leveled system, the teacher can have students read at the level that is most helpful and comfortable for their needs. This is a product that has a cost and many schools and school boards have a subscription so ask your school if you already have one.

School Mental Health Ontario. (2022). Everyday Mental Health Practices. School Mental Health Ontario. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://smho-smso.ca/educators/take-action/everyday-mental-health-practices/>

School Mental Health Ontario provides a number of helpful resources to support educators in making their classroom more mentally healthy. Through their everyday practices, you can find some engaging ways to promote mental health in your classroom based on the age group and type of school board you work with (for example, Public or Catholic).

Trent Math Education Research Collaborative. (2022). Resources. Trent Math Education Research Collaborative. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://tmerc.ca/resources/>

The Trent Math Education Research Collaborative is lead by Dr. Cathay Bruce with the intention of sharing resources, research and other findings to a wide audience. On this site, you can find resources that are very helpful in supporting your math program.

Trent School of Education. (2022). Resources. Trent School of Education. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.trentu.ca/education/resources>

On this site, you will find a number of great resources that can easily be incorporated into your classroom practice. This resource page has lessons, resources and other information on various activities that are important for educators to understand in today's classroom.

Woo, E. (2022). Eddie Woo. Retrieved January 31, 2022, from <https://www.youtube.com/c/misterwootube>

Eddie Woo is a Math Teacher who posts some of his lessons on Youtube. These lessons can be a great way to see a topic in action and use some of those ideas to influence your practice. Furthermore, it can also be helpful to send these lessons to students during virtual learning or as homework to extend their own learning.